Be sure and zoom in so you can see to carefully resize the photo or frame to fit properly. Remember the frame can be rotated for portrait photos.

Title/Heading

The horizontal dividers above are scalable and movable to fit your page layout plans. You can also rotate them to make a vertical page divider.

YOUR STORY TITLE

There is an invisible frame below that sets the wrap points to wrap with the “now is the time” graphic. If this frame gets moved the wrap points will not fit the graphic correctly. Just highlight this text and type your story into this same text box and the text wrapping should work correctly.

Replace the photo at left with one that illustrates your story. Zoom way in so that the photo and frame take up most of screen. This will make it easier to resize your photo to exactly fit the frame.

Remember the frame is resizable too in case you need to resize it so as to match the proportion of your picture. The frame can be used in front of or below your picture. You can also copy and paste the frame to use for additional photos.

YOUR STORY TITLE

The vertical divider at right is moveable and resizable. It can also be rotated to make a horizontal divider. You can copy and paste it to have as many dividers as you need for your page layout plans.
