Modern Design

Replace the picture at right with one that illustrates your story. The picture is on top of a frame with the side bar showing.

The frame can also be used as another text box background.

The horizontal divider bar above is moveable and scalable. You can also copy and paste it if need more of them to go along with your page layout plans.

you'll need to change the color of that text to white so it shows up clearly on the darker background.

Replace the photo above with one that illustrates your story. The text boxes on this green background are set for the text to flow from this text box to the one to the right to create a two-column story layout.

If you need to go to a three-column layout, just draw another text box on the dark blue background and link it to the middle text box so that text will overflow to it. Then

White text works best on this dark background.

There is an invisible box around the blue photo frame to the left. This invisible box is there to cause the text to wrap around it. If it gets accidentally moved, it will change where the text wraps to. The photo at left is on top in the layer order. Just replace it with one that illustrates your story.
